

Announcing Scholarship Opportunity

The 11th Annual PROMIS[®] International Conference

Leveraging the Patient Voice from Clinical Decision-making to Policy: The Value of PROMIS

October 26-28, 2025 - Milwaukee, Wisconsin

The PROMIS Health Organization (PHO) is offering scholarships for trainees to participate in this conference.

PROMIS measures are increasingly used in applied research and clinical practice to ensure the patient's voice is included in healthcare and ultimately to improve health outcomes.

The Annual PROMIS International Conference brings together clinicians, researchers, health system administrators, government and regulatory agencies, pharmaceutical and technology industries, and business entities that provide services utilizing patient outcomes.

They will gather to share their experiences and advances utilizing PROMIS measures.

The scholarship includes:

- Conference registration and meals included in the conference program
- PHO Student Membership for 2026
- 3 nights hotel room

To apply, complete the application on the next page and submit your curriculum vitae and a statement (up to 250 words) on 1) your interest and experience with PROMIS and 2) how your participation will make a difference for patients, providers, and researchers at your institution.

Applicants must submit an abstract for the conference that includes PROMIS data to be considered for a scholarship. Click for the Call for Abstracts.

Eligibility: Graduate students, masters, PhD, medical school, residency, fellowship). Applicants must be within two years of a faculty position or within 10 years of a terminal degree. Previous scholarship recipients are ineligible.

Application Deadline: April 18, 2025. Scholarship winners will be notified by June 30, 2025.
